Tension Between Soviet Russia And Japan Increases

MANCHUKUO CONSULATE THREATENED

Russians Decide to Close Up Diplomatic Offices at Two Points

TOKYO, Feb. 15.—Tension between Soviet Russia and Japan increased today although diplomatic developments brought a possibility of settlement of the long-standing friction along the borders of outer Mongolia and Manchukuo.

Japanese said 1,000 Mongols with full field equipment, had invaded Manchukuo at a point north of Lake Buiror, and clashed with Japanese-Manchukuoan troops.

Main hope of settlement came from Moscow where the Japanese ambassador, Tamekichi Ohta, suggested a frontier commission composed of Mongols, Manchukuoans, Russians and Japanese to investigate recent border incidents.

The quarrel between Japan and Russia, rooted in their conflicting Asiatic interests, seemingly has been coming to a head in recent weeks with a succession of border and diplomatic disputes.

Russia, which has been making more and more remonstrant diplomatic protests, again asserted its annoyance. The Japanese reply, delivered at Moscow yesterday, said Russians, not Manchukuoans, were the attackers and the clash took place on Manchukuoan, not Russian, soil.

The Russian reaction was prompt and indignant. B. S. Stomnyakov, assistant commissar of foreign affairs, termed the Japanese answer factually untrue and a gross invention and slander hiding the real intentions of Japanese militarists. To Japanese suggestions of a border commission, Stomnyakov expressed pleasure but said neutrals must be represented on the commission as an arbitration force.

Symptomatic of the minute degree to which the dispute has been carried is the news yesterday and today of Russia's decisions to close up its consulates in Manchukuo at Mukden and Swuienho. This decision is traced to the fact Russia has had only six consulates in Manchukuo while Manchukuo has only two in Asiatic Russia. According to diplomatic principle, Manchukuo therefore has been entitled to more consulates. Rather than concede this right, which might give Japan a chance to learn more about Russian military power, Russia is withdrawing its consulates, reducing to the Manchukuoan limit.

AWARD CONTRACTS ON STATE BUILDING

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—Contracts totaling $523,012 for construction of a new state building to house the motor vehicle department here were awarded today by Earl Lee Kelly, director of public works.

The structure will be of reinforced concrete, four stories in height.

Successful bidders were: General work, Bradford & Hill, San Francisco, $46,583; electrical, Coast Electrical Company, Long Beach, $22,572; plumbing, M. R. Carpenter, Sacramento, $21,270; heating and air conditioning, Luppen & Hawley, Sacramento, $78,322; elevators and dumbwaiters, Otis Elevator Company, San Francisco, $45,888.

TRANSFUSIONS AID COUNT COVADONGA

HAVANA, Feb. 15.—The Count of Covadonga, eldest son of former King Alfonso of Spain, was reported somewhat better today after a second hemorrhage due to haemophilia.

Three blood transfusions administered indirectly at the rate of three drops a minute proved successful, physicians said. While Covadonga rested comfortably early today they announced:

"After a relapse during the last 24 hours, his highness' condition is improving this morning."

The count's tendency to profuse bleeding—the result of an external thigh abscess—caused physicians almost to despair yesterday.

MUNICIPAL STOCKADE AND ROCK PILE TO BE LOCATED JUST NORTH OF CITY BOWL

"SANTA ANA Municipal Rock Pile."

These words, in bold lettering will be placed above the wire-enclosed stockade, now being planned for construction on the vacant lots immediately north of the municipal bowl, fronting Eighth street, where Santa Ana's reckless drivers and transient vagrants, and probably drunk drivers, will be breaking rocks in future months.

"We want people to know what they would be in favor of the project when it is brought before the council Monday night for official approval."

"I haven't studied the matter as yet," Councilman Smith declared, "and therefore have no comment to make at this time."

Work Starts Tuesday

Since four councilmen favor the project, it is believed official approval will be given Monday night. If the approval is given, the enclosure, made of heavy wire, eight feet high, topped by two or three strands of barbed wire, with the

HOUSE PASSES APPROPRIATION BILL FOR ARMY

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Machine Gun Jack McGurn, No. 1 assassin of the Al Capone gang, was himself assassinated early today. Three gunmen shot him in the back. Though he had many underworld enemies, police could not immediately find a reason for the killing.

McGurn was shot down in a bowling alley on the northwest side, scene of many of the bloody gang wars in which he acquired his sinister reputation. A few hours later police arrested his wife, the beautiful Louise Rolfe, his "blond alibi" in the Valentine's day massacre of seven years ago.

If the gunman had acted an hour earlier, McGurn would have died on the anniversary of the most revolting crime of Chicago gang history—the execution of seven gangsters at one time. He was the chief suspect but Mrs. McGurn's alibi saved him from trial. Today she was held for questioning.

"My God, how bad is he," the

JAIL 8 MEN FOR STRIKE BOMBING

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Feb. 15.—Eight men were under arrest today in connection with the bombing of the homes of two non-union workers at the Vegetable Oil Products company, where a strike has been in progress for three months. None were injured when a dynamite blast tore a small hole in the roof of M. A. Wright's home and another the home of J. Durrell early today, shattering the window of a bedroom where two of his children lay asleep.

Los Angeles and harbor officials were called and rounded up suspects for questioning. The eight men were jailed and held incommunicado on charges of suspicion of malicious use of dynamite.

The suspects were booked as Elmer F. Prior, 31, L. W. Ewen, 21, Marshall Shafter, 21, James C. Humphrey, 24, Fred Sanders, 22, and G. J. Fritts, 21, Herman Manning and Albert Scott.

RICHMOND ICE JAM DAMAGES SHIPPING

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 15.—The great ice jam in Richmond harbor swept out to sea today, carrying with it several large boats, and causing huge property damage.

The Texaco tanker Richmond, with a crew of about 10 aboard, and carrying 450,000 gallons of gasoline, was carried out and after several hours there was concern for the safety of the crew.

One tug, the Mary Steele, was crushed by the ice floes and reported sunk. Other ships were reported aground farther down the river.

The Coast Guard boat Saukoo managed to tie up at Dutch Gap, but another ocean-going Coast Guard boat, the Antietam, had not been heard from at 8 a. m.

The water continued to rise rapidly this morning.

PRESIDENT'S PEACE PLEA WILL BE TOLD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The text of President Roosevelt's letter to the presidents of all Latin-American republics suggesting the convening of a Pan-American peace conference will be made public tonight.

The letter suggesting the conference to consolidate peace machinery of the western hemisphere was sent out from the White House several days ago.

The text has not been made public heretofore owing to the delay in the delivery of the letter to some of the South American capitals.

International and diplomatic courtesies required that all of the letters should be delivered to their recipients before their contents are made public. The text will be made public at 8 p. m. EST.

GRAND JURY REPORT TO BE FILED WITH JUDGE MONDAY

No Inkling Of Contents Is Revealed

Jury Longest in History and Also Most Expensive for County

THE "30-DAY" grand jury of 1935, after establishing an all-time record for length of session, will reach the end of the long trial next Monday.

Its report is expected to be filed Monday morning with Superior Judge James L. Allen, who swore the grand jury into service October 28, 1935.

At that time, Judge Allen advised the grand jury to limit its investigation to 30 days and urged speedy completion of its report. The grand jury then proceeded to extend its inquiry nearly four times 30 days.

As a result, it will be one of the most expensive grand juries, if not the most expensive, in the county's history. Its bill for expert accountants, $2713.15, exceeded the $2250 cost of such service that has prevailed during past years, and was $58.15 above the contract made with the Los Angeles auditing firm which this year won the contract away from the local auditors who have charged the $2250 figure.

This excess includes $497.15 for extra service in auditing the office of County Recorder Justine Whitney, who was subsequently indicted and finally resigned; also $419 for other extra auditing and court reporter fees.

The excess charge caused County Auditor W. T. Lambert to temporarily hold up payment of the claim; meanwhile various departments complained that they had received no real audit, despite the higher charge. The "sample" system of auditing was said to have been used by the grand jury experts, who did not

ETHIOPIANS FREE MISSION WORKERS

ADDIS ABABA, Feb. 15.—Seven missionaries reported imprisoned by authorities of Gamo province south of the capital are safe, it was confirmed today.

Rev. John Trewin, of Toronto, one of the party, telegraphed the government that the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Street, Jr., of St. Paul, Minn., and their four children were safe.

The additional money was authorized in an amendment by Chairman John J. McSwain, D. S. C., of the House Military Affairs committee, to provide for placing 1000 reserve officers on active duty each year from which

BRUNO HAUPTMANN'S REPRIEVE EXPIRES

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 15.—The latest legal barrier to Bruno Richard Hauptmann's execution will lift automatically at midnight tonight when his 30-day reprieve expires.

Some day next week Justice Thomas W. Trenchard is expected to set a new date for the execution, which under the law cannot be earlier than the week end of March 17.

Meanwhile, Hauptmann, reportedly worried by the end of his reprieve, prepared for another visit tomorrow from Samuel S. Leibowitz, New York criminal lawyer, who has promised to help him if he will talk freely. Leibowitz has indicated Hauptmann must give his decision tomorrow or he will withdraw from the case.

Apparently the missionaries did not want to obey orders of provincial authorities to go to a safer place. The two men went to see the provincial governor it was indicated, and while at Chenchta were guarded though not imprisoned.

The suspects were booked as Elmer F. Prior, 31, L. W. Ewen, 21, Marshall Shafter, 21, James C. Humphrey, 24, Fred Sanders, 22, and G. J. Fritts, 21, Herman Manning and Albert Scott.

CAPONE AIDE IS SHOT DOWN BY GANGSTERS

BUENA PARK, Feb. 15.—Mrs. Neil Beisel of Santa Ana, state vice president, will be the speaker at the February 27 meeting of the Grand Avenue P.-T. A. She will discuss "Realizing the Hopes of Our Founders." Past presidents of the local association will be honored guests. A short play by members of the executive board will provide entertainment.

gangster's wife cried when Sergt. Frank Donahue found her at home. "He's gone," Donahue said. Mrs. McGurn burst into tears. She explained she had received an anonymous telephone call from a man who said, "Jack has been wounded."

Questioned about McGurn's recent activities, his wife said he had "a piece of a book in Melrose Park." Police said he had been operating as a gambling bookie.

"Jack went to a wake Thursday night and to a funeral yesterday morning," Mrs. McGurn explained. "He came home about noon yesterday and slept until 11 p. m. when he said he was going out to the bowling alley. That's the last I saw of him."

Since Al Capone's enforced retirement, McGurn has been living a quiet life but until recently he operated an elaborate gambling resort with Ralph Capone, Al's brother. Police found $3,85 on his body.

McGurn had gone to the bowling alley with two companions. They were awaiting their turn at an alley when the three gunmen entered. William Allosio, proprietor, said they fired 15 shots. Two hit McGurn, one behind the ear, the other in the back.

MARITAL TIES OF 5 COUPLES SEVERED

Four divorce decrees and one annulment were granted at hearings in superior court late yesterday.

Eleanor M. Meyer, who married John Meyer at Kingman, Arizona, last August 5, was granted annulment of the marriage by Judge G. K. Scovell when she told that Meyer had misrepresented that he had a $150 per month government job and would provide a home for her, whereas he had no job at all.

Judge Scovell also granted divorces to Ruth Girard against Norman Girard, on grounds of cruelty, and to Gertrude Wilcox from Dwight W. Wilcox, on grounds of non-support and habitual intemperance.

Judge James L. Allen granted divorces to Ethel Guss against Glenn Guss, on grounds of non-support and cruelty; and to Martha Fore against Harold Fore, on grounds of cruelty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Some editors have been bringing bath towels to work these days to keep from being drenched by sudden floods of vox pop mail. The entire country, apparently, has taken its pen in hand to tell newspapers, magazines and even the Congressional Record what it thinks about politics.

It may mean the country is aroused, and then again it may mean something else.

For instance, Senator Pope offered for printing in the Congressional Record the other day six letters to show the opinion of the people of Idaho about WPA. Pope said the letter demonstrated that WPA had been so outstanding that the leading citizens of his state could not resist writing about it. Each of the letters stated as much.

The trouble was they all stated the same sentiment on the same dates in about the same language. Indeed, three of the letters were identical, word for word. (Congressional Record, Feb. 6, page 195.)

BRITAIN

Our naval strategists have not waited for the formal breakup of the London naval conference to frame a new policy based on Japan's denunciation of the 1922 treaty and London's unannounced decision to build many more vessels.

Although it may not be announced formally — other nations will know it without written notice — the United States will allow Great Britain to regain the supremacy of the seas which the two countries have shared for the last thirteen years. Washington will make no effort to match the British as they whip into shape a fleet that faces a troubled continent and a dissatisfied Italy. The original ratio of 5-5-2 will eventually be transformed into one of 6-5-4, although Japan's strength may approach nearer to ours, possibly 4-5.

Ironically, America's slip into second place coincides with the neutrality decision not to abandon our policy of "freedom of the seas." But there are certain considerations behind the London outcome which definitely affect the new arrangement. Although no formal written alliance is contemplated, the Anglo-American attitude is based on the unacknowledged belief that the two English-speaking peoples will never fight. The U. S. will continue the three-year-old system of basing our main fleet in the Pacific, while Great Britain's ships will ride the Atlantic and the Mediterranean.

The speaker talked against books written by Harold Rugg used as textbooks in public schools of California. She claimed young people's minds "are being indoctrinated with communist poison from these books."

Mrs. Ashcraft charged that Harold Rugg is a communist and affiliated with different communist organizations. Many parents and taxpayers signed the petitions of protest against Harold Rugg's textbooks, which petitions will be sent to the state superintendent of public education, she said.

MYSTERY

President Roosevelt and William Edgar Borah chumming doesn't make Republican president-makers feel any kindlier toward the mysterious Senator from Idaho. The Democrats dream of sensational possibilities in their speculation when they aren't referring to the Senator as the "Al Smith of the GOP."

Starting with the assumption that Mr. Borah is capable of any kind of somersault — and his angling for the nomination supports that belief — New Dealers whisper that he might back FDR if the Republicans turn him down and name a "reactionary." It sounds fantastic but there are smart prophets who put stock in the prospect. On the other hand, if Mr. Borah should be named, will Al Smith "walk" into the camp of the man most responsible for Hoover's triumph in 1928?

One explanation is that the farmers want to be sure that the next agricultural measure will stand up in Supreme Court. But a more likely reason is the fact that the price structure hasn't collapsed in accord with the predictions of calamity howlers. The farmers are beginning to wonder if they can't get along on their own now, especially as many who took the checks didn't warm to the idea itself.

Under ecclesiastic hierarchy the only man who can discipline Father Coughlin is his immediate superior — Bishop Gallagher of Detroit. A short while ago it is understood that Bishop Gallagher received an invitation to go to Rome and spend some time in writing a history of the Catholic Church in the United States since 1900. But the elderly bishop replied that he was too old for such a long sea voyage.

Had Father Coughlin's superior accepted the offer, whoever took charge in his absence might have instructed the radio cleric to moderate his Sunday messages. In this connection it is recalled that Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, in eulogizing President Roosevelt at Notre Dame, served notice that the Detroit priest was speaking on his own views and not the church's. Others high in the hierarchy are known to feel even more strongly on the subject.

Washington hears that Father Coughlin's superiors recently sought to tone down his politico-economic talk and to curtail his crusades for inflation. The wish may be father to the thought but the report gains credence in high circles here.

NOTES

Another unnoticed angle is that it is customary for congressmen to start a Japanese war scare each year, just before the war and navy department bills are considered. It helps to push the bills through.

One shrewd news observer is observing that most of the Washington news for the last three years has been mainly about what is going to happen and most of it is going to happen.

The new assistant treasury secretary, Wayne Taylor, will adequately fill the Washington social position voided by his predecessor, Chip Roberts. Both are members of what plebeians hereabouts inaccurately call "the white spats brigade," largely centered in the state department.

There has been a revival of talk among important people about a coalition Republican ticket composed of Landon and Douglas, meaning, of course, Lewis Douglas, ex-budget director. Also Vandenberg and Douglas.

The congressman who authored that Roubble claims bill, vetoed by President Roosevelt and widely denounced on the floor of the house, was Rules Chairman O'Connor, one of the big three of the house. In deference to his popularity, no one mentioned his name, but referred to the bill by number only.

In connection with the twaddle about restricting supreme court justices from rendering decisions unless they are familiar with the subject, the only dirt farmer on the supreme court bench is Justice Roberts, who rendered the opinion on the AAA. He actually works in his fields.

Reboin Turns Down Beverly Post

DON ASSISTANT OFFERED GRID. TRACK POSITION

Al Reboin today declined an appointment as head coach of football and track at Beverly Hills high school.

The position was to be effective immediately, and Reboin was to have reported Monday with the beginning of the new semester.

The appointment was announced by Edward Hummel, superintendent of schools at Beverly Hills, a former football coach at Santa Ana junior college.

After a brief conference this morning with the board of education, which Reboin has been serving for the past term as assistant coach in Santa Ana jaysee, the former Trojan halfback definitely turned down the Los Angeles post.

Reboin has made an excellent record here in his first attempts at coaching. He acted as Coach Bill Cook's assistant in football, and has had complete charge of the Don basketball team which is in a contending position for the Eastern Jaysee conference championship. A former Santa Ana high school ace in all sports, Reboin played three years at S. C. Last year he was considered the outstanding college rugger on the coast.

Trojans, Cards Tied Again In Basket Race

(By United Press)

Stanford and the University of Southern California were tied again today for leadership of the Southern division Pacific Coast conference basketball race following the most decisive upset of the 1936 season.

University of California's unpredictable Golden Bears staged the upset on their home court last night, defeating the Cardinals 62 to 30 and maintaining the California "jinx" which has kept the Palo Alto squad on the short-end of the Stanford-California court series for 15 years.

California started fast and held a 26-17 halftime advantage. Tight guarding by Bob Herwig and Don Jensen, guards, throttled the Stanford attack. Although Hank Lutetti, star Stanford forward, connected for 15 points, a majority were made from a considerable distance on the floor.

While the Cardinals were losing to California, U.S.C. was connecting for the Trojans' third successive victory over their across-town rivals, U.C.L.A. The score was 36 to 32 after a 12-12 tie at the half. Baskets by Orman and Muth, in the last two minutes of play, broke another tie and gave Southern California a hard-earned victory.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 15.—A crack field of the nation's professional golfers today trailed Johnny Revolta, Milwaukee marksman, into the second round of the $3000 Thomasville Open at Glen Arven.

Revolta, who holds the P. G. A. title, shot a brilliant 69 yesterday to take a one-stroke lead over the field. Tony Penna, of Pensacola, Fla., posted a 70 to take second place. Ralph Beach, of Baltimore, came home in 71, and two New Jersey professionals, Vic Ghezzi and Jimmy Thompson, had 72s.

Zooming down from a tower 142 feet high, and hitting the lip of the slide at great speed, Olympic skiers are able to leap from 250 to 300 feet off this jump erected at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, in the foothills of the Bavarian Alps. It is from this slide that the final jumping contests of the winter games will take place Sunday.

Brundage Lauds Nazis For Games' Fairness

GARMISCH - PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 15.—Germany has lived up to every promise and exceeded all expectations in its staging of the fourth Olympic Winter Games, Avery Brundage, president of the A. A. U. and the American Olympic committee, said today.

Courtesy shown by German officials to all nations competing here will go a long way toward silencing critics who were opposed to the summer games being at Berlin, Brundage believes.

"I think Germany has leaned over backward in carrying out to the letter the true spirit of international sportsmanship," Brundage said. "Even the most ardent opponent to American participation could find nothing to complain about were he here."

Brundage said that most of the opposition to Olympics participation in the United States was from "a small minority which had large sums of money to spend."

"The American Olympic Committee has no money to spend to spike the guns of the opposition," said Brundage.

"But the common sense policy which it and the A. A. U. adopted was wise. When our athletes return home they will be able to paint a true picture of the treatment they received in Germany."

Greenberg Of Tigers Year's No. 1 Holdout

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—More than 50 major league baseball players have not signed their contracts, a checkup by the United Press revealed today. At least half the group are genuine holdouts.

Among the most stubborn holdouts are Hank Greenberg, Detroit slugger; Augie Galan, Chicago Cubs' outfielder; "Arky" Vaughan, Pittsburgh's National league batting champion; Van Mungo, Brooklyn's ace pitcher; Luke Appling, Chicago White Sox shortstop; "Buddy" Myer, Washington's American league batting champion; Bob Johnson, Philadelphia Athletics' outfielder; Sam West, St. Louis Browns' outfielder, and the two Dean boys of the Cardinals.

Greenberg, first baseman of the world champion Tigers, perhaps is the No. 1 holdout. He performed last season for a salary said to be about $7500. He indicated early in the season that he wanted approximately $40,000. The Tigers are understood to have offered him a contract for twice his 1935 salary, but he still is dickerling for more money. It is unlikely Greenberg will sign for much less than Lou Gehrig, Yankees' first baseman, who draws $23,000.

The National league champion

Chicago Cubs have signed all of their players except Augie Galan, who collected almost as much from bonuses in 1935 as he made from his regular salary. He is believed to have been offered about $5500, about $2500 short of his demands.

Tow Yawkey's high priced Boston Red Sox, with a payroll of about $250,000, have four prominent players unsigned. They are Third Baseman Bill Werber, Catcher Rick Ferrell, Pitcher John Marcum and Infielder Bob McNair, the latter two obtained in the winter deal with the Philadelphia Athletics. Marcum has said that he wants $10,000.

The two batting champions, Myer of Washington and Vaughan of Pittsburgh, have failed to accept the contracts first offered them.

Myer, because of the $500,000 price placed on him when Col. Jacob Ruppert of the Yankees wanted to buy him, may be one of the year's most intractable holdouts.

Four members of the Cincinnati Reds failed to sign with the second squad to the Puerto Rico training camp as scheduled yesterday. They were Outfielders "Babe" Herman and Ival Goodman, Infielder Tommy Thevenow and Catcher Ernie Lombardi. Herman and Lombardi are regarded as holdouts.

Greenberg, first baseman of the world champion Tigers, perhaps is the No. 1 holdout. He performed last season for a salary said to be about $7500. He indicated early in the season that he wanted approximately $40,000. The Tigers are understood to have offered him a contract for twice his 1935 salary, but he still is dickerling for more money. CUNNINGHAM RACES GENE VENZKE AGAIN

DEMPSEY'S PROTEGE WHIPS KEARNS' BOY

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—"Red" Cunningham, Kansas, and Gene Venzke, Pennsylvania, meet in their second mile duel of the indoor season tonight when they toe the mark for the Baxter Mile in the New York A. C. Games. In their first race, Venzke triumphed, finishing a step ahead of Cunningham, but a step behind Joe Mangan, Cornell, the winner.

If there is a feud between Venzke and Dempsey, as reported after their break 10 years ago, it was not apparent last night. Dempsey leaped into the ring to shake Venzke's hand and publicly refuted any evidence of hostility.

Three Shatter Don Shot Mark In Drill

At least one Santa Ana jaysee track and field record is doomed this year.

Three Dons, stepping into the ring one after another, took turns beating Frank Kroener's all-time mark in the 16-pound shot in practice the other day.

Wilburn Anderson had the best put, a distance of 41 feet, 6 inches. Bill Greschner hit 41 feet and Art Craft 40 1/2. Greschner had 15 measure 40 feet or better. Kroener's record is 40 1/4. He made it last year.

It was the first championship for the United States team.

The fine showing of the two American bobs raised the United States to fourth position in the unofficial point standings. Norway still led with 93, Germany was second with 55, next came Finland with 38, and then the United States with 29 1/2, just passing Austria which had 28 1/2.

Taking the Mount Gudberg curves with apparently no thought of danger, Brown completed the first run today—the third of the competition which began yesterday—in the good time of 1:25.39.

The fourth and last run was completed in 1:20.38 which approached the track record set yesterday by the Swiss No. 2 team which finished second to the Americans.

The Brown-Washbond sled had a winning total of 5:29.29.

The Swiss No. 2, driven by Fritz Feierbend and braked by Joseph Beirli, had to better its own course record to earn the runner-up position. On the first run today Feierbend's bob was clocked at 1:24.11. It was on the final run that the Swiss hung up the new mark of 1:19.88. This performance brought a total elapsed time of 5:30.64.

Third honors went to America's No. 2 team of which Gilbert Colgate of New York, and Dick Lawrence, of Branchville, N. J., were the crew. They swooped down and around the run in 1:24.80 on their third attempt, and made the final in 1:22.16 for an aggregate of 5:32.96.

Some 5000 onlookers has assembled along the winding course when the first of today's runs were completed. Most of the spectators were gathered at the dangerous Bavarian turn. Those who understood English cheered delightedly when the winning bob was making its third run, for just as they headed into the turn, Washbond, instead of snapping on the barbed brake, yelled at Brown: "Give it to 'em!"

On this, Huntington Beach's day of days, why not turn the column over to a guest conductor, that avid follower of Oiler sports, Sharkey?

Other Eastern conference members go to the post tonight in the next-to-the-last round of the annual titular scramble. Riverside goes to Pomona; Fullerton runs afoul of a tough customer in San Bernardino; Chaffey and Citrus went wild in the last half to win 46-22.

THEATRES - LITERATURE - ART

ORANGE COUNTY FREE LIBRARY NEWS NOTES

By Dorothy E. Wents, County Librarian

The following article is supplied by the Public Relations Committee of the California Library Association to Institutional Members for use in local newspapers:

THE GOOD CITIZEN AND HIS PUBLIC LIBRARY

Mr. Alfred Harrell, Editor of the Barkerfield Californian and Member of the Citizens' Library Council.

In a democracy such as the United States the maintenance and perpetuation of its principles of government and the furtherance of the welfare of its people depend on an enlightened citizenship. Since the foundation of the Republic popular education has been recognized as the basis of its security.

To attain this object, public schools and colleges have been established and maintained throughout the land, thus fortifying succeeding generations with the knowledge of their privileges and protecting them from insidious doctrines of all kinds.

With education thus firmly established and accessible to all, the Public Library became a necessity. A free press and wide circulation of literature dealing with science, art and works if imagination were required to satisfy the cravings for knowledge engendered by the schools. Since few persons are financially able to accumulate the literature of past ages and to keep pace with the increasing flood of books, community effort and private benefactions have made them available to all.

In this way the Public Library has become a fountain at which all may drink. From its shelves may be garnered the wisdom of the ages in every department of thought, down to the latest contributions.

While great national and private libraries have preserved for mankind the fruits of the human intellect, it is the Public Library that has made them accessible to the common man. It offers the riches of the mind, formerly held by the few, to all who may desire to possess them. It opens gateways of solace and information to many who otherwise have been neglected. It thus maintains the democracy of the mind, and provides weapons against the threats of tyrannies by autocracies of any description.

Wherever there is a Public Library we see a symbol of American freedom and the free spirit of man. Its wealth of books on all subjects and its shelves of reference literature are riches all may enjoy. The good citizen gives it his private and public support because he sees in it a bulwark against quackery and untruth. He rejoices also that his fellow citizens value it for the knowledge and entertainment it provides, and its demonstration of the truth that man does not live by bread alone. The Public Library is an institution to be treasured.

The Citizens' Library Council

Members of the Citizens' Library Council of California, men and women chosen for their respective contributions to community progress have found or made opportunities to prove themselves strong, heartening friends in the support of libraries.

One member had printed on his business cards as well as on his letterhead: "Member of the Citizens' Library Council of California."

This information commanded respect and attention from his wide professional acquaintance and undoubtedly, new friends for libraries have been made through this publicity of his membership.

A clergyman, who moved from the northern part of the state to the southern, went at once to the public library, and without making himself known, asked for a library card.

He was so impressed with the friendly quality of the service that he wrote to the local newspapers praising the library and explaining just what such a reception meant to a stranger.

Others have used the radio to carry their messages of co-operation, have mentioned the cause of libraries in their public addresses or have lent their talents to the enrichment of programs given before library conventions.

Formed in 1934, the Citizens' Library Council was designed to enlighten public opinion in regard to the needs of libraries. Invita-

SHAKESPEARE'S NEW STAR IN FANTASY-FARCE 1ST RUN FILM SHOWS FRIDAY AT WALKER'S

Max Reinhardt's super production of Shakespeare's comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," will show at the West Coast theater for one day only next Friday with one of the biggest and most talented casts of Warner Bros. stars ever to appear in a single picture, according to Manager Lester J. Fountain of the West Coast.

Reinhardt, long acknowledged to be Europe's greatest stage producer, consented to present his spectacle in film form after it had met with tremendous success at the Hollywood Bowl and at San Francisco. It is said to be the ultimate in spectacular grandeur, while at the same time, its comedy and romance are as hilarious and as human as the human race.

New Films From Books The following films based on books with historical backgrounds are soon to be released:

Anthony Adverse. (Warner Brothers)

Little Lord Fauntleroy. (United Artists)

The Trail of the Lonesome Pine. (Paramount)

Sutter's Gold. (Universal)

Modern Poets

By MISS BEULAH MAY

Taking the Rancho Ranch, "Probably the most famous Mexican ranch between the Nueces and the Rio Grande" as his theme, John Houghton Allen in "Song to Rancho" has written an excellent book of verse. The gallop of longhorns, breath of the sage, sunlight on the patio, a whiff of marihuana, ambuscade and death under the stars are all here in vivid moving verse.

I should have time, then, to love quietly all these things about... The ebony, the blue stone hills, the fern like huslio, The fine horses, the courtesies, the Sunday fiestas.

To remember the distances under the blazing skies,

The song of spurs and the smell of dust and sage;

The breath of dawn, the flare of a match to a cigarette, lighting Red and sienna faces, old rifles, silver bits, by comparios.

To remember the wild roses, the giant Joshua in bloom,

And our dusty file of fighting men in the yellow day.

To remember the night raid, the blow, the pillage.

The cantinas, the women as vivid as marihuana—

The skinny steeds, the yellow dust, the cavalry.

There is something about the brush that is like the dim of dawn.

And the horses stomping, and the huichol singing.

The men saddling, and dim lights burning in the white jasoles.

Mosquitos and ebony, the little huichol casting its timid shade.

Enchanted and tattered like finery—these calling.

Come to my arroyos, Come to my valleys, Ride in the brake.

Reach on reach of the world's end, matted and whorled and brambly.

And the villages, hidden, the listless natives await,

And the slim vaqueros going about the forgotten tasks.

Like the wind back and forth in the grass."

This is not the carefree Spanish life of old California, nature is more stern and life is grim, but to read this book is to have,

"A laugh before the fire with gaunt comrades

And a bed on the wide prairies."

BOB STEELE FILM ENDS RUN

"No Man's Range," a story of romance and combat against western desperados, will be screened for the last times tonight at Walker's State theater. Bob Steele is the star of the outdoor action film.

Other subjects on the program are "Moonlight and Melody," a short musical comedy; "Bremen Town Musicians," a cartoon; a chapter of "The Phantom Empire," and a news reel.

ROMANCE, MYSTERY TO CLOSE TONIGHT

An unusual romantic drama, "The Lady Consents," and an intriguing and well-contrived melodrama, "Grand Exit," will show for the last times tonight at the Broadway theater.

"The Lady Consents" features a cast including Ann Harding, Herbert Marshall, Margaret Lindsay, Walter Abel, Edward Ellis and Robert Kavanaugh.

The picture is a vividly dramatic presentation of the modern triangle problem, with comedy and romance highlighting the drama. The question of divorce and its consequences to all parties concerned is presented in a serious and thoughtful manner.

"Grand Exit" deals with the arson of a firebug. Edmund Lowe the part of an ace fire insurance investigator, who, although a considerable amount of trouble to directors of a big underwriting firm, is rehired on his own fabulous terms to track down a dangerous and mysterious pyromaniac. The cast includes Onslow Stevens and Ann Sothern.

The situations which ensue give opportunity for Miss Chatterton to display the dramatic ability which has won for her the title of the "First Lady of the Screen." The cast includes such favorites as Otto Kruger, Lionel Atwill, Marian Marsh, Lloyd Nolan, Robert Allen, Elizabeth Risdon, Nana Bryant and Esther Dale.

Edward Everett Horton is starred in the sparkling comedy, "Her Master's Voice," supported by Peggy Conklin, Laura Hope Crews and Elizabeth Patterson. The film tells the story of the large measure of woe which came to a middle-aged man who lost his job in a radio broadcasting system because his boss and he couldn't agree on the correct way to "sob" "Down by the Old Mill Stream." The picture is filled with hilarious comedy, according to advance notices.

Selected short subjects will include a cartoon and World News events.

Friends Are Assembled
For Party Honoring
Mrs. Carl Allen

It was Mrs. Carl Allen's pleasant privilege yesterday afternoon to claim a large assortment of lacey gifts when she was made guest of honor at a party given by Mrs. George Huffman in her home, 2407 Spurgeon street.

Guests from Villa Park, Mrs. Allen's home, and from Orange and Santa Ana joined in the pleasant courtesy, and enjoyed arrangements made by Mrs. Huffman for their entertainment. These included her attractive valentine decorations in which quantities of sweet peas were used, and the series of games introduced. The valentine motif again came into prominence at the refreshment interval.

A basket, prettily decorated, was provided to receive the ribbon-tie packages brought by the guests, all of whom enjoyed inspection of the various dainty gifts as Mrs. Allen opened each package in turn.

Mrs. Huffman had the assistance of her daughter, Miss Elsa Mae Huffman, in the afternoon's hostess duties, and received as guests in addition to her honoree, Mrs. Allen, the latter's mother, Mrs. Grace Deck, with Mesdames Etta Huffman, Charles L. Grove, Ross Stebbins, Martha Stone, Carol Hall, Santa Ana; Mesdames Charles F. Gorr, Freda Porter, Rosella Smith, Violetta Erickson, Margaret Tuleene, A. E. Barnett, R. A. Kerna, Gladys McDonald, Orange; Mesdames Frank W. Dillard, Euphemia Rails and A. B. Campbell, Villa Park.

Husbands Are Guests
At Bridge Club
Dinner

Husbands of bridge club members were guests of the group on Thursday evening at a dinner party in James' cafe, where tables were brightened with valentine appointments. Guests had planned a surprise feature for their wives, presenting each of the eight hostesses with a heart-shaped box of chocolates.

Bridge play took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Liggett, 2222 Bonnie Brae. Spring bouquets provided a setting for the event. Prizes in cards were won by Mrs. D. S. Mosley and Herbert Allman, who scored high.

Present were Messrs. and Mesdames Herbert Allman, D. S. Mosley, Jess Elliott, O. F. Turner, Ray M. Wolven, C. E. Hayes, Frank Latham and D. E. Liggett.

Mrs. Latham will be hostess at the next meeting, to be held in two weeks.

Die Tantze Club to Have Dinner Dance

So successful have been the dances held by Die Tantze club during its first few months of existence, that members are announcing plans for a dinner dance to be held Wednesday, February 19, in the Y. W. C. A. room.

Mrs. Marie Smith, Miss Helen Glancy, Miss Hazel Oliphant, Eric Twist, Sam Cash, Omar Williams and John Schrier are in charge of the dinner. They will have tickets for distribution to members and to other young business people interested in attending.

Die Tantze club dances are held weekly at 8:30 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A. room.

Auxiliary Membership
Dinner Comes Monday

Mrs. Ethel Marsh of Upland, Legion Auxiliary department president, will be speaker Monday evening at the annual membership dinner which Santa Ana auxiliary will hold at 6:30 o'clock in Veterans hall.

Reservations are still open for the event, and may be made with Mrs. Earl Lapp, membership chairman, or Mrs. Ralph Hoover, local president. More than 125 members are expected to attend.

Sharing honors at the meeting with Mrs. Marsh will be Mrs. Marjorie Peabody, 21st district president, who will give a short talk.

Mrs. Rosann Hardcastle will direct the drill team in ceremonies during which several members of the auxiliary and of Junior legion auxiliary will be initiated.

Hostesses Pay Compliment To Donis Bellomy

Truly a night of showers in every sense of the word, last night provided one of romantic beauty for Miss Donis Bellomy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin C. Bellomy of this city, who on March 15 is to wed Joseph Parks. Three close friends of the prospective bride, the Misses Betty Steelman, Barbara Steelman and Ella Armstrong, planned the affair, which was given a romantic valentine setting in the Steelman home in Atwood.

Shared Birthday Date Is Observed With Family Party

Rarely do mother and daughter share the same birthday anniversary, but such is the case with Mrs. Emma A. Prettyman, 2384 Heliotrope drive, and her daughter, Miss Florence Prettyman.

They even go a step farther, for their joint anniversary falls on Saint Valentine's day.

This rather unusual coincidence is always reason for special celebration, and yesterday Mrs. Prettyman and Miss Prettyman were complimented at a birthday-valentine luncheon of unusual charm given in Pacific Coast club, Long Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Appleman and their niece, Miss Winifred Warren of Chicago, who are confirmed winter dwellers in the Southland, now here for their eighth annual visit, were hosts at the luncheon. They had issued invitations to an intimate little group. Dr. Appleman is Mrs. Prettyman's brother-in-law, and similar bonds of friendship and blood unite other members of the group. In addition to Dr. and Mrs. Appleman, Miss Warren, a special guest, for second high. Similar Cupids were placed on the candles used at the supper hour, matching the scarlet cellophane which wrapped the crystal candlesticks.

Valentines were used for score cards and for favors, and saucy red Cupids embellished wrappings of the charming gifts rewarding Miss Rose Allen for high score, and her sister, Miss Helen Allen, for second high. Similar Cupids were placed on the candles used at the supper hour, matching the scarlet cellophane which wrapped the crystal candlesticks.

Mrs. Risch had on her guest list, the Misses Helen Lutz, Rose Allen, Evelyn Schieber, Miriam Samuelson, Mildred Watson, Helen Allen and Mesdames Carl Thrasher, John V. Minihan, William Fritch, Paul Gilbert, Marah Adams, Emmet Elliott.

Loren Wagner's 17th birthday anniversary occasioned a merry party early this week in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wagner, 2046 North Flower street. A group of young people joined with Mrs. Wagner in planning the event as a surprise to the celebrant.

Dancing and games were diverts of the evening, with prizes going to Melvin Hill and Kenneth Oliphant, who scored high in each of two contests. Guests presented a gift to the celebrant.

Present were the Misses Mercedes Kellough, Dorothy Reyer, Peggy Suduth, Berline Henderson, Clessa Parks, Lois Wagner, Messra Loren Wagner, Miss Yvonne Bill Goode, Kenneth Oliphant, Onie Sanders, Jack Milman, Melvin Hill and Jack Wright.

Coming as the last of a series of three candlelight concerts will be the program to be presented tomorrow afternoon by Mills Chamber Music Ensemble of Pasadena at 4 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A. It was announced today by the association secretary, Miss Mary W. Howard.

The ensemble is composed of the director, Harlow John Mills, piano; Elizabeth Morgridge, violin; Miriam Canfield, viola, and George Richardson, cello.

The program Sunday will include three numbers, String Quartet Op. 18, No. 3 (Bethoven); Trio Op. 8 for violin, cello and piano (Brahms), and "Plane Quintet" (Franck). The first two numbers have four movements, and the last selection three movements.

Recent announcement of February wedding plans of Miss Stella Swartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swartz of El Toro, and Howard Renshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Renshaw of Santa Ana, inspired a charmingly appointed party of Thursday night when Mrs. George Devine of Laguna Beach entertained in her home on Temple Hills drive.

It was natural to apply a valentine decorative motif to this party for a bride of the valentine month, and Mrs. Devine mingled ranunculus blossoms in white and bright scarlet most effectively in her floral appointments. The colors were uppermost in equipment for bridge play also, and in the wrappings and ribbons of prizes awarded Mrs. Russell Hamlyn, scoring high, Mrs. Robert Graham, low, and Miss Swartz as the honor guest. In addition there were favors, with each guest receiving a tiny carved ivory animal mounted on a red pedestal.

Flowers and vandies graced the card tables, spread with linens for serving refreshments at the close of play. Later guests gathered around Miss Swartz while she opened the shower gifts from her friends. These were for her trousseau, and were placed in a basket beautifully arranged with white tissues and ribbons, as a float in some unusual parade, surmounted with a small bride and groom.

Mrs. Devine's guests included in addition to Miss Swartz and her sister, Miss Ida Swartz, Mrs. George Osterman, Mrs. Bonnie Osterman, Mrs. George Stevens and Mrs. Foster Prather, of El Toro; Mrs. Melvin Clement, Orange; Miss Bobbie Shields, Long Beach; Mrs. "Bud" Holmes, Santa Monica; Mrs. Russell Hamlyn, Mrs. Paul Hyson, Mrs. Stanis Doerr, Anaheim; Miss Erey Garver, Miss Jeannette Lewis, Miss Josephine Hogan, Mrs. Robert Graham and Mrs. Richard Green, Santa Ana.

Hawaiian Cruise Lends Theme for Annual Fashion Revue

Modish attire for morning, afternoon and evening will be displayed for Junior Ebell society members and guests at an annual fashion show to be held March 14 at 2 p. m. in the clubhouse. "A Cruise to Hawaii" will be the theme for the review, which is being arranged by James Boyd of Laguna Beach.

Members of the hostess club will assist guests from the Twenty Little Working Girls of Los Angeles, in modeling styles aboard a ship setting to be arranged on the peacock room stage.

Mrs. C. B. McKinney, general chairman of this year's gala event, is assisted by chairmen including Mrs. Raymond Terry, tickets; Miss Eleanor Baird, fashions; Mrs. Russell Sullivan, decorations; Mrs. Herbert Strohse, refreshments; Mrs. Calvin Flint, programs.

This group met with Mrs. McKinney Thursday afternoon in her home, 202 Wright street, to made general plans for the party. The hostess served tea at the afternoon's close.

The party March 14 will begin with bridge games, with table prizes to be awarded. A musical program will include numbers by the newly-formed Junior Ebell String trio, composed of Rose Marie Flint, violin; Evelyn Schieber, cello; Mary Bruner, pianist. Other selections will be by a Hawaiian guitar trio. Refreshments will be served.

United Presbyterians Hold Conclave Here

Dr. Willard Wylie of Whittier, First Presbyterian church, and Dr. Johnston Calhoun, First United Presbyterian church of Long Beach, headed delegations from their cities to a loyalty rally dinner Thursday night in Santa Ana United Presbyterian church.

Attended by 145 delegates, the meeting came as the ninth and last conference in a series in the synod of California. Dr. Ralph Adkinson of South Pasadena, synodical superintendent of missions, presided over the program. The Rev. A. E. Kelly, pastor of the host church, conducted a question box on church finance. Dr. W. E. McCulloch of Los Angeles gave the closing inspirational address.

Ladies' Aid of the Santa Ana church under direction of Mrs. A. C. Hasenjaeger, served dinner preceding the meeting.

Three-year Old Boy Celebrates Birthday

Master Kenneth A. Ranum's third birthday anniversary was celebrated Thursday afternoon at a party in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ranum, 1229 South Garney street.

Balloons and colorful hats distributed to all the children added a festive note to the occasion. Mrs. Ranum served ices and a candlelit birthday cake at a prettily appointed table. The celebrant was held in the home of the bride-elect's sister, Mrs. Floyd Rogers.

SHOWER IN BREA

Mrs. Edward Wagner and daughter, Miss Lois Wagner, 2046 North Flower street, and Miss Martha Sharpie, 1110 South Ross street, were in Brea this week for a shower honoring Miss Edna Kahlen, of Anaheim, whose marriage to Dillard Wilkerson, of Anaheim, will be an Easter event. The party was held in the home of the bride-elect's sister, Mrs. Floyd Rogers.

POET IS GREETED

It is pleasant to hear of recognition accorded elsewhere to talented Santa Anans, hence the fact that Gazelle Stevens, Sharpie, 222 Orange avenue, has had the honor of appearing before the Women's club of Fort Dodge, Ia., has been of much interest to her friends here.

Mrs. Sharpie, who left in November to spend the winter with a sister, Mrs. E. M. Van Patten, in Fort Dodge, recently read some of her own poems before the club. The Messenger and Chronicle, daily paper of the city, declared, "The poems represented much variety, some serious, some merry and light. What was especially good was that each contained a sound philosophical observation in a well-turned phrase."

TO ISLAND PARADISE

The "Magic Isles" of Hawaii are exerting their lure on Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Burke, of Panorama Heights, who, on Thursday, Feb. 20, will sail on the Malolo in company with old family friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick Willits, of Glenridge, N. J., for a fortnight in the islands. Mr. and Mrs. Willits are spending the winter in Los Angeles at the Arcady. The four friends will be guests at the Royal Hawaiian, Honolulu, and from that point will take various of the famous trips planned for pleasure seekers. These will include a visit to Hilo where they will see the volcano and will be over-night guests at Kona inn. Their return will be on the Lurline sailing from Honolulu March 7.

Attendance Record

The following is the record of Sunday school attendance, as recorded by the Ministerial association of the city. This percentage is based upon the number of students in attendance on Sunday, Feb. 9, 1936, as against the enrollment of the individual schools.

The first figure indicates the total enrollment; the second figure gives the average attendance, and the third figure is the percentage of attendance.

Other guests with Mrs. Chandler were Edward Noonan, grand patriarch; H. P. Vandewalker, district deputy grand master; Mrs. Lucetta Smith of Illinois, a guest in the home of Mrs. Maude Swarthout.

A picture of Abraham Lincoln was placed at the desk of the recording secretary, Mrs. Martha Vandewalker.

Valentine appointments were in evidence in the banquet room, where refreshments were served under direction of Mrs. Nannie Myers.

MELROSE ABBEY WILL PRESENT MEMORY HOUR

The Musical Memory Hour program at Melrose Abbey at 3 p. m. tomorrow will feature a variety of musical instruments under the direction of Mrs. Grace E. Groves of the Groves Studio, Huntington Beach.

Taking part in the program will be Edith Brush, violin and guitar; Beatrice Brockman, violin; Mrs. Bernice Pamplin, mandolin; Mrs. Ann Peterson, saxophone; Ena Preston, xylophone, and Mrs. Margaret Pryor, reader.

The ensemble will play several selections, "Festival March," "Fairy Tales," "Eternal Spring," "Peaceful Heart" and "Praise Ye the Lord." "The Prayer Penitent" will be a violin solo by Edith Brush.

The two selections, "In The Garden" and "List to the Voice," will be featured as trio and duet numbers. Mrs. Margaret Pryor will give a reading, "The Lost Word," by Van Dyke.

This group of musicians is said to have been given favorable comment in numerous church and community concerts in which they have appeared in Huntington Beach, Santa Ana and Long Beach. They were organized by Mrs. Groves under whose direction many interesting programs have been given. The general public is invited to all Musical Memory Hour programs.

Writing to Sell BY ETHEL K. LOCKWOOD

WHAT KIND OF STORY?

There are those to whom the word "slant" means fight. Personally, I think it is a good word, and that the "planting" system has a great deal of merit. Right here "slant" seems to be the only word I can use to describe what I mean. Short stories may be roughly classified into two groups: the "art for art's sake" kind, and those that are written for sales purposes. You may write because the desire is uppermost in your soul, or you may write because you want the money. It's even possible to have the desire uppermost, and still want to cash in on the story you have written.

I am probably very primitive and earth-minded. But I like to sell things. If I write something I think is good, and it doesn't sell, I am not so sure it is good. If I sell it, I have more respect for my own judgment and ability.

I believe, too, it is possible for the beginner to learn to write short stories from the "salability" angle. Why shouldn't he learn how to choose salable material while he is learning how to use material of other kinds? Why not avoid the pitfalls and taboos that keep so many well-written manuscripts out of the magazines?

Why not slant toward a magazine that he would like to "make" some day?

Why not build a definite, well-planned structure instead of a rambling affair that sprawls all over the landscape and goes nowhere in particular?

We're going to do exercises—short story exercises—so why not do the exercises that build us up in places that are going to mean something?

I don't believe any beginning writer is going to burst into print until he has studied what is being printed today. I know of one very brilliant man who is writing continually, but who will not attempt to write the type of material that

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Jesus Helps A Doubter

Text: Luke 7:19-28.
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 16.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

When a preacher or a teacher whose teaching is distinctive arrives in any community, almost inevitably question arises concerning him. Those who sense anything new or dangerous in his teaching are apt to be aroused, while those who are looking for some new emphasis on truth and righteousness regard him with hope.

It was so with Jesus, the Great Teacher, and particularly true of Him because He came to the world at a time when devout Jews were looking earnestly for the prophesied Messiah and deliverer.

John the Baptist might have aroused such questioning. However, John was insistent from the first that he was not the Messiah, but only a voice crying in the wilderness, preparing the way for the One greater than himself.

John had been cast into prison, and there had come to him the name and the fame of Jesus. He was immediately aroused. Was this man whose wonderful works were reported the Messiah for whom they were looking, or was he to be added to the number who had already professed Messiahship, only to disappoint the trustful?

John took the very direct course of sending two of his disciples to Jesus himself with the question, "Art thou He that comest, or look we for another?" We must not suppose that John was credulous enough to take merely the assurance for satisfaction, but we may suppose rather that he would draw his own conclusions from the nature of the answer that Jesus would give.

Christianity began as a youth movement. There was something about it that was earnest, impetuous, determined.

It was a movement not by men of doubt, but by men of conviction; and men of doubt found their convictions of faith developing as they came face to face with Jesus and realized what manner of man He was.

is selling now. He doesn't approve of it. And to date editors don't approve of him.

WE may not like what the editors are buying, but if we want to sell them, we're going to have to submit material that contains at least some of the ingredients that were used in the stories they HAVE bought.

There's an old remark in the show business that comes back to me over so often. When an unemployed actor would knock an employed player's acting, someone was sure to say: "Well, he's WORKING!"

You may not like a certain writer's stories—but he's SELLING! And the editor who bought that writer's material is said to edit that particular magazine because he knows the kind of stories his readers want to read. No use to quarrel with the editor or berate the writer whose stories you do not like. You can be a lone wolf and howl your head off if you want to. But if you're a wise beginner you'll write what you think an editor wants to buy.

I advise studying with one on present-day markets. It's as easy, and when you get to the place where your stories are realizable, you'll know where to go.

THE TWYNIMITES

Story by HAL COCHRAN

Artwork by GEORGE SCARBO

As Scouy bucked and kicked around, wee Dotty held on safe and sound. The animals seemed thrilled and so did all the Twynimites.

To Dotty, Scouy loudly said, "I will not throw you o'er my head. Don't worry, 'cause you've surely been in lots of much worse plights."

Then Duncy shouted, "Let me ride. That sort of stuff I've never tried." "Ah, here's my chance."

FIRST WHITE MEN IN AMERICA

FIVE HUNDRED years before Columbus ventured across the Atlantic, a band of daring Northmen sailed west in a fleet of Viking ships, the largest of which was less than 100 feet long. First came Eric the Red, who returned with a glorious picture of a land he called Greenland. Then a shipmaster named Bjarni sought the land Eric had described.

Bjarni described the new land, on his return, and about the year 1000, Leif, the son of Eric, gathered a crew and went in search of this land. He came to a rocky, snow-covered shore, went on to a land of deep forests, and finally arrived at a country that now is believed to have been Nova Scotia.

To prove that such explorations could have been made in the small sailing vessels the Northmen used, one such ship was built in 1893 and crossed the Atlantic under both the American and Norse flags. This ship is pictured on the 5-cent stamp of the United States that was issued in 1925 to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the arrival of Norse settlers in New York state.

VALENCIA HIGH DIRECTORS OF SCHOOL GROUP Y. W. NAMED AT HOLDS PROGRAM ANNUAL DINNER

PLACENTIA, Feb. 15.—With more than 175 in attendance, a St Valentine's party was held at the Valencia High school Friday night, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. Lewis Edwardson presided and gave a short talk commemorating founders of the organization.

The balance of the program included Spanish dances and songs by students of the La Jolla school, with Miss Norma Brastad and Mrs. Martha Schwoob directing. The hosts and hostesses also had arranged games, magicians and fortune tellers booths for entertainment and served refreshments at the close of the entertainment.

Mrs. Edwardson announced the next district meeting at Brea, February 25; the Bradford avenue P.T.A. meeting for February 27; the next meeting of the Valencia High school P.T.A. for March 12, and the president's council of fourth district meeting for March 19 at the Bradford school, with the Bradford avenue and Valencia High school associations as hosts. She appointed Mrs. Oscar Carlson, Mrs. Richard White, Mrs. Elmer Hochstetler, Mrs. J. E. Hargrave and herself as hostesses for the day.

Other directors are Mrs. Redfern, Mrs. Staley, vice president; Mrs. Nelson Launder, of La Habra, secretary; Miss Emma J. K. Fullerton, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Harvey, Mrs. T. P. Wallace and Mrs. Frank Schweitzer, Brea; Mrs. Louis Jacobsen, Mrs. Sarah Donald and Mrs. Frank Rosspaw, Placentia; Mrs. J. W. Stanley, Mrs. S. H. Horn and Mrs. Ralph Cummins, Buena Park; Mrs. W. H. Bates, Mrs. Fred Johnson and Mrs. J. J. Carter, Yorba Linda; Mrs. A. W. McBride, Mrs. J. A. Schofield and Mrs. J. I. Williams, La Habra, and Mrs. Albert Lauener, Mrs. W. H. Isley, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. A. C. Terrill, Mrs. H. L. Youde and Mrs. Lillie Strain, Frank Fullerton.

Miss Elizabeth Hunziker reported on the mid-winter conference of college Y. W. C. A. groups. The girls who demonstrated Y. W. C. A. camp activity and participated in skits were Ellen Buelke, Margaret Gillian and Frances Bowen, Valencia High school; Ruth Ann McBride, Betty Ann Harpster, Patricia Adams, Mary Harpster, Jean Lauener and Kathryn Gillian, Fullerton Union High school.

In her report, Miss Edna Munday, secretary, revealed there are 687 girls and women as leaders and members of the clubs of Northern Orange county.

SPECIAL PROGRAM ARRANGED BY CLUB

FULLERTON, Feb. 15.—In commemoration of the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, and in keeping with activity of the California Federation of Women's clubs in holding special study of the Constitution of the United States this month, a special patriotic program is being arranged by the program committee of Placentia Round Table club for Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Carrie T. Baade of the American Legion auxiliary, California department, will talk at the session. Members of patriotic organizations of the community of Placentia and Fullerton have been invited as special guests.

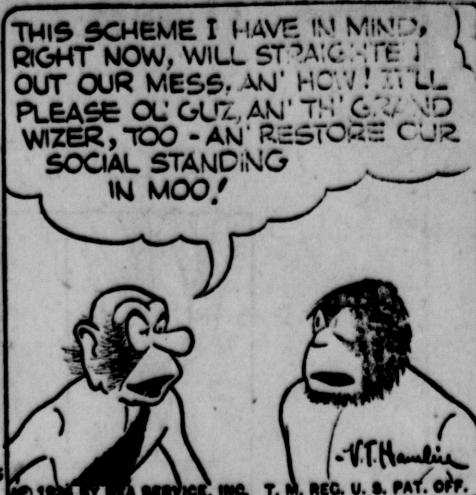

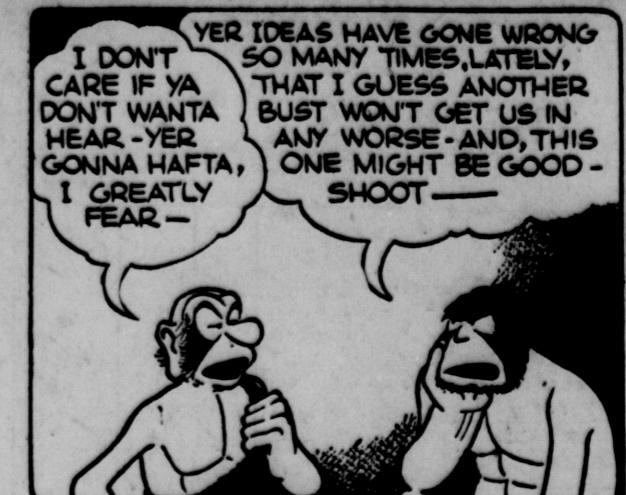

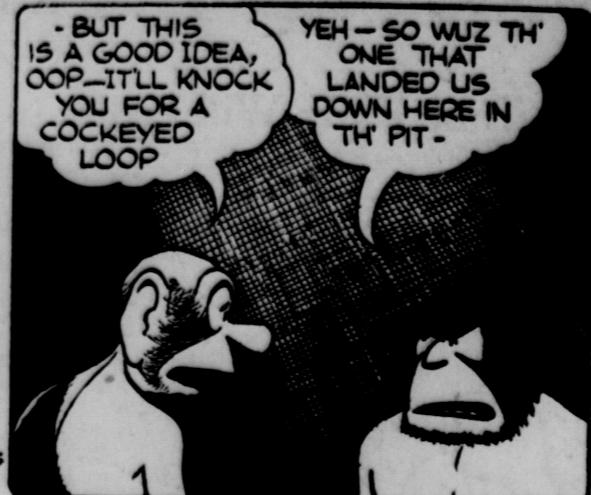

Hostesses are to be Mrs. J. W. Newell, Mrs. W. W. Blackmer, Mrs. J. Antoinette Nenno, Miss L. I. Pheninger and Mrs. Mary Sunwalt.

ALBERT MORRIS RITES HELD

FULLERTON, Feb. 15.—Funeral services were held at the White Memorial parlors Friday for Albert Morris, father of A. J. Morris of Fullerton, and of C. W. Morris, of Yorba. He died last Tuesday after a long illness. He had been a Los Angeles county resident for more than 25 years.

REPORTS GIVEN TO BAPTISTS ON MISSION WORK

ANAHEIM, Feb. 15.—Work of the Baptist church in missionary and home fields was described before approximately 150 church members in the Santa Ana Valley Baptist conference when their annual meeting was held yesterday at the Calvary Baptist church in Anaheim.

Miss Amy Acock, for 30 years missionary to Japan, told of the progress made in Christianizing that country, saying that Japanese people have accepted Christianity under the most trying conditions.

Dr. C. M. Dinsmore, edifice secretary for home missions for the Northern Baptist convention, told of the work of his office in aiding home churches under financial difficulties.

Advice as to how better to spread Christianity at home was given by Dr. Otto S. Russell, executive secretary for Southern California, who talked on "Bringing in the Kingdom." Dr. Walter E. Woodward, field secretary for Southern California, made an appeal for more funds for missionary work at home.

The Rev. Virgil K. Ledbetter, pastor of the Anaheim church, welcomed the assembly and introduced some of the speakers. The Rev. Harry F. Sheerer of Orange, was moderator during the morning and afternoon sessions. The Rev. E. Woody Hodson, of Montebello, and the Rev. John Speed, of La Habra, had devotionals.

WILLIAM NEMETZ SERVICES MONDAY

ANAHEIM, Feb. 15.—Funeral services for William R. (Dick) Nemetz, who died Thursday in a Los Angeles hospital, will be held Monday at 2 p. m. in the Bucks, Terry and Campbell chapel. Interment will be in Anaheim cemetery.

Mr. Nemetz, who was 51 years old, died from an infection following the bite of a boar on his hog ranch near Artesia. He was attacked by the boar January 30. Following the attack he was taken to a hospital in Los Angeles, where he died.

He came to Anaheim at the age of three years from his birthplace in Fargo, N. D. His father was the late Leopold Nemetz. He lived here until a few years ago when he moved to Artesia to operate his hog ranch there. He is survived by a brother, Frank J. Nemetz of Orange, and three sisters, Mrs. Pauline McDado and Mrs. Julia Payne, of Alhambra, and Mrs. Victoria Hilton, of Fontana.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS TO MEET TUESDAY

FULLERTON, Feb. 15.—Young Democrats of Fullerton, will hold a meeting next Tuesday at Odd Fellows hall, starting with a 6:30 o'clock banquet. Arrangements are in charge of R. B. Carey, of Fullerton.

Two speakers are slated for the occasion, Robert A. Ridell, state executive vice president of Young Democratic clubs, and possibly Alvin P. Meyers, editor of the California Young Democrat.

Party Sponsored By Chapter Club

FULLERTON, Feb. 15.—Six tables of bridge were in play at the card party at Masonic temple sponsored by the Friendly Chapter of the Ami Tai Eastern Star chapter.

Hostesses were Mrs. M. Wilson and Mrs. Mona Tanner. Prize winners were Mrs. Harry Wilber, first in bridge and a special prize; Mrs. Lida Wheeler, second in bridge; Mrs. Hazel Mennes, first in "500"; Mrs. Maude Wills, second in "500."

Mrs. Armour Payne and Mrs. J. C. Larkins, of Iowa, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Davis of the G. S. T. apartments.

Mrs. J. W. Sanbury was elected superintendent of the adult department of the Congregational church Sunday school at the recent board meeting.

Mrs. Mary Swain was elected chairman of the April-May ways and means committee of the Ladies Aid at the home of Mrs. J. B. Robison.

ADVERTISING REPRESENTS EMPLOYMENT AND WAGES

No private enterprise has a greater interest in industrial development and business expansion than the newspapers. By the same token, no private enterprise suffers greater harm when industry is taxed, regulated or regimented to the point of inertia.

The invention and expansion of the automobile industry, for example, with its related businesses such as tires, gasoline, repair shops, etc., created the greatest single advertising account of all time.

Newspaper revenue is often imperiled by radical and destructive political attacks on industries. The ruthless use of the weapon of taxation is potent in discouraging future advertising accounts.

In addition to staggering general taxes, many industries are now penalized with additional class or special taxes which cut deep into the operating revenue—for example, witness the purely class taxation of utility companies, insurance companies, retail stores, etc. It often happens that it is impossible to cut expenses materially in any other direction than advertising.

Advertising represents business for everybody. Lack of advertising shows lack of business with resulting lost jobs and lost earning power by the nation.

The estimated volume of local newspaper advertising, including classified, in 1929, reached a peak of $600,000,000. From this point it dropped to a low of $325,000,000 in 1933, and unemployment was the greatest on record. Nothing could more graphically illustrate the newspapers' interest in future economic, political, taxation and industrial policies which encourage business.

Newspapers are one of the first industries to suffer from campaigns which cripple or destroy any business. Therefore, they should be most zealous in guarding their own as well as the public interest against demagogic, class or punitive attacks on any business or industry.

OLD ACQUAINTANCE

Often it takes tragedies like that in which three children of the Roy E. Pitts family lost their lives at a cabin fire 70 miles north of Bishop to remind us of the good fortune which gives us as efficient a fire department as we, in Santa Ana, enjoy.

So seldom do fires get out of control in Santa Ana, and, indeed, anywhere in Orange county, that we frequently accept our firemen as we do our best friends. We take them for granted. It is a refreshing pause to sit back occasionally and read the facts from the records—for example, that the per capita property loss in Santa Ana for 1935 was 51 cents. That it was but 28 cents in 1934 and only $3.03 in 1933 when the $88,000 Santa Ana Transfer company fire occurred at Van Ness and Fourth streets to raise the loss percentage above the usual for this city.

It is a pleasant thought to realize that we have firemen here, willing not only to risk their lives to insure our safety against fire menace but who are willing and ready to assist us with their efficient inhalator equipment at any time, day or night, and who will aid us even with such problems as arise when our house roofs leak and threaten the furniture or when the baby climbs to a precarious perch in some tree-top and we cannot get him down. Firemen who are not only willing to give quick assistance but whose efficiency is such that our dangers are reduced to the point where the fire department attracts our attention but seldom. Fire Chief John Luxembourger and his 34 men are to be commended for their excellent record of the past year.

BUSINESS MEN SHOULD GIVE OF THEIR TIME

When a young man or boy makes application for a job, whether the employer has any position open or not, a short interview with the applicant might be of great assistance to the party desiring work. If they have had no experience, they need the personal touch with one who has had experience, and a short chat with a practical man might give the boy or girl a much better understanding of reality than they have had an opportunity to get from their professors, who are so often dreamers.

If a boy has an opportunity to get briefly acquainted with actual conditions, one word or one thought might greatly help him get started in the right direction; where the employer might not get anything directly, it will greatly help in what America needs—more and better education.

These are critical periods in the young person's life.

FRIENDSHIP

We printed in The Register yesterday, a quotation from a little book on Friendship which is simply an assortment of quotations from thinkers of the ages on the important subject of friendship. We thought the readers might be interested in reading a quotation from time to time on this subject. If we all can learn to be friends, we will get much more out of life.

Today's quotation is from Henry Ward Beecher. Here it is: "It is one of the severest tests of friendship to tell your friend his faults. If you are angry with a man or hate him, it is not hard to go to him and stab him with words; but so to love a man that you cannot bear to see the stain of sin upon him, and to speak painful truth through loving words, that is friendship. But few have such friends. Our enemies usually teach us what we are at the point of the sword."

THANKS MR. STRATHMAN

The Register wishes to publicly thank S. H. Strathman of Placentia, for the very constructive thoughts presented in his contribution to the Register's Clearing House in Friday's issue.

We were especially impressed by the point he so clearly presented as to why Japan and Russia had made progress. These countries progressed only as they adopted the policies which made the democratic countries, United States and England, great.

In the United States, England and Switzerland, the individual has had the liberty and the right to use his talents to produce what he thought was important. Thus, the total ingenuity of all the people was made available. The results speak for themselves. Just as we have departed from these practices, have these countries had unemployment and retarded their progress in raising the standard of living of all the people.

The Register suggests to the readers, who failed to read this article, that they get Friday's Register and read it. It is on the back page.

While this article was longer than is desired, it was so constructive and thought producing, the space was gladly given to present it. It is the exchange of sound ideas that we all need. It was a fine service.

It reminds us of what Ella Wheeler Wilcox said:

"I gave a beggar, from a little store
Of wealth, some gold.
He spent the shining ore,
And came again, and yet again,
Still cold and hungry, as before.
I gave a thought, and through that thought of mine,
He found himself—a man; supreme, divine
Fed, clothed, and crowned with blessings manifold.

And now he begs no more."

This is exactly what Mr. Strathman has done to us. He has given us a thought and if we all understand things, we will have real progress.

Come again, Mr. Strathman.

BONUS "STOCK SALESMEN"

Reports are reaching Santa Ana from the east of bogus "stock salesmen" who are attempting to induce veterans to buy worthless stock with their bonus money. The reports tell of a system whereby the "salesmen" are posing as veterans and are preying upon their "buddies" to sign up for a certain number of shares to be paid for when the bonus checks arrive early this summer. The report is a warning to veterans not to submit to any transactions unless through an unimpeachable friend or a responsible person who is personally known by the veteran whose money is to be used. Swindlers always become active when great numbers of persons receive unusual gifts of money. All veterans recognize this, but the system which is being employed in the east, according to reports, is so gilt-edged that it appears real. A number of veterans have succumbed to the idea, it is reported.

It is one proof of a man's fitness for friendship that he is able to do without that which is cheap and passionate. A true friendship is as wise as it is tender.

The Boy On The Other Side Of The Tracks

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

LIKE FATHER LIKE SON

Like father like son, sometimes. When the two agree on the way the son should go there is true joy in their relationship, but when they do not agree and each pulls his own way there is the beginning of a family tragedy.

There are few fathers who are not ambitious for their sons. Most fathers want to help their boys to live richer and more satisfying lives than they have lived. Always they covet the youth of the boy and long to live it through their sons. If the boy goes along with their fathers in spirit all goes well, but if not, nothing goes well. It is impossible for a father, or anyone else, to live his youth again in the form of his child. It is best not to try. Many struggle hard in spite of the opposition of the children and meet only discouragement.

One father had wanted to be a lawyer in his youth, but circumstance denied him. He determined to give his boy the great privilege that he could not secure and bent every effort toward educating him for that profession. There was no difficulty until the boy graduated from high school and was ready for college. Father said the law school, but son said, No. He was never going to be a lawyer. He was going to be a surgeon. From that day forward there was war between father and son. Because he wanted the impossible the father was deeply disappointed in his boy; said he was in ingrate, stupid, and not worthy to be called his son.

This attitude brings out all the unlovable characteristics of children. In their desire to free themselves of the burden that is imposed upon them they use any weapon at hand. They fall in school, they misbehave on every

AIR CASTLES

Oh it is sweet to build castles in Spain!

Pile them up mountain high, stone upon stone;

Twine them with ivy, shield them with oaks,

Let all the hillsides with vine-yards be grown.

Here is a battlement, there is a tower,

Here a fair vista in cypress tree frame;

Yonder a roadside shrine, freshened with flowers.

Marked by a crutch thrown aside by the lame.

Firm anchored bastions, wide sweeping stair,

Fluttering pennants to shine through the rain;

Dark-ribbed dining halls, lanterns a-flare—

Oh how we love them our castles in Spain!

celia Earle and Marion Kenyon were necessary); one teaspoon of ginger (a sixteenth of Lucille Crawford was plenty); one teaspoon of cinnamon (as Carroll Brinkerhoof was the spice of the evening, she was used); three-fourths cup of sour milk (Cecilia Hunter and Mary Markel were used because no other sour milk was available); and two cups of flour (Barbara Flower was just right).

NO DEATH

I turned to ask that God would heal my sorrow.

I thought that he had taken one so dear,

But as I turned to Him to find the reason

I found that nothing could be lost...it all was here.

I humbly thanked Him for the revelation,

In gratitude, in joy I raised my head,

I found that only in my thinking,

The one whom I had loved and mourned, was dead.

For God is Love, and love is ever-present,

And we learn to see with love's clear gaze,

We find that there is never separation,

And those we love so well, are here always.

(One by one, some of our old friends are returning to the Patchwork Quilt! Here's that saucy imp of a Little Sister today. But there are many more to be heard from—Let's hope we may greet them soon—and many new friends, too.)

Dear Patchwork Lady—

Are you 'spired to hear from Little Sister? I'm so glad you are "back," as our Po' Parrot says, and I a big girl now; I've grown so since you went away.

I wonder and wonder what did you do with your quilt while you were in the house-pit? Did you put it away on a big high shelf, where your little boys couldn't get at it? or lock it up in what big Silas calls a hopeless chest? Mom says such a pretty patchwork quilt must have been put to some good use, and that you having such a warm heart, she knows you loaned it to some poor family, so they could keep warm during the bitter nights of depression.

Sometimes I have to scrap hard to get back things I loan, and I hope you didn't have to fight, and get all patched on your face and hands, to get back the Patchwork Quilt.

I've got to go to school now, I will sign my name.

Little Sister.

Dear Patchwork Lady—

Since I ain't city-bred nor stoppin' I don't do much of city shoppin' I know you, since you're in town dwellin'

It perfume for us men is sellin'? You see I've been right modernized. Since gettin' with the woman idea. But she's just like when she was made,

She ain't branched out like Silas Slade.

The perfume for my goin'-clothes. I want it smellin' like the rose. So if my woman queries pushes I can let on I've trimmed the bushes.

'Cause she holds that all perfume wearin' is fast like, and too odor-darlin'. So my idea is indicative. That she's just smellin' plain old nature.

Yours for nosegays and perfume—Silas Slade.
